

NEW YORK DROPS TWO

The Highlanders Twice Beaten by St. Louis, But Still on Top of the Heap.

ATHLETICS LEAD CHICAGO

Cincinnati Ahead of Pittsburgh in National, But Giants a Sure Thing Now.

The contest for the pennant of the American baseball league is an uncertain now as a month ago. Chicago has dropped out of the race for the premier position, certainly for the time, but New York and Boston are coming up the stretch nose and nose, and running for all they are worth. New York was thrown down hard by St. Louis yesterday, and Boston snatched one from Chicago by an eyelash. The once champion Athletics are making a hard fight to get in the running, and have now reached third place. New York has but seven games lead over Connie Mack's bunch, and the Quaker City aggregation may yet make the others out. With such star athletes as Wadsworth and Plank, and with Henderson, Henney and others to relieve them, the Philadelphia Americans are no easy proposition. They made a brilliant showing on the last Western trip, and are playing like fiends now.

In the National League the Giants have a walkaway thing of it now. Pittsburgh and Chicago once seemed pennant possibilities, but they have been playing in uncertain form, while the New York bunch keeps on winning with enough local finish, variety, and power to make a perfect machine, and is grinding out victories monotonously. Meanwhile there are hardly forty games to be played in each league.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Scores Yesterday.

New York 2, St. Louis 7.
Boston 7, Chicago 4.
Philadelphia 4, Detroit 3.
Washington 6, Cleveland 1.

Where They Play Monday.

Detroit at Boston.
Chicago at Philadelphia.
Cleveland at New York.
St. Louis at Washington.

Standing of the Clubs.

Clubs	Won	Lost	P.C.
New York	65	43	.607
Boston	62	46	.575
Philadelphia	60	44	.571
Chicago	54	47	.533
Cleveland	50	48	.505
Detroit	49	50	.495
St. Louis	48	53	.479
Washington	24	53	.311

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Scores Yesterday.

Pittsburgh 5, Chicago 2.
Philadelphia 3, St. Louis 2.
Cincinnati 7, Boston 1.

Where They Play To-day.

Boston at Cincinnati.
New York at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Chicago.

Standing of the Clubs.

Clubs	Won	Lost	P.C.
New York	78	22	.779
Chicago	65	41	.613
Cincinnati	64	47	.575
Pittsburgh	63	48	.567
St. Louis	61	52	.540
Boston	42	72	.365
Brooklyn	33	73	.313
Philadelphia	33	80	.294

Highlanders Drop Two.

NEW YORK, August 27.—St. Louis won two games from New York to-day. Both Orth and Hynes were hit out of the box in the first game. Padden's two-batter won the second game for the visitors.

First game—
St. Louis..... R. H. E.
New York..... 00000000-7 10 1
Batteries: Hynes, Petty and Suggen; Orth, Griffith and Kleinow. Umpire, Dwyer. Time, 1:40.

Second game—
St. Louis..... R. H. E.
New York..... 00000000-4 0 0
Batteries: Suggen and O'Connell; Chesbro and McIntyre. Umpire, Dwyer. Attendance, 24,465.

Brilliant Pitchers' Battle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 27.—Donohue and Hughes had a pitchers' battle to-day.

Score:
Washington..... R. H. E.
Cleveland..... 00000000-1 0 0
Batteries: Hughes and Kiltredge; Donohue and Bemis. Time, 1:15. Umpire, Connolly and King. Attendance, 2,000.

Ten Innings to Win.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., August 27.—In a ten-inning game to-day the home team won the last of the series with Detroit.

Score:
Detroit..... R. H. E.
Philadelphia..... 00000000-3 2 3
Batteries: Donovan and Boville; Plank and Foster. Time, 1:45. Umpire, Sheridan. Attendance, 10,221.

Boston Won a Pretty One.

BOSTON, MASS., August 27.—In the presence of the largest crowd ever assembled at a ball game in this city, Boston defeated Chicago to-day.

Score:
Boston..... R. H. E.
Chicago..... 20000000-5 7 0
Batteries: Tannhill and O'Brien; Owen and Sullivan. Time, 1:22. Umpire, O'Loughlin. Attendance, 20,500.

Ashland, 16; Laurel, 1.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ASHLAND, Va., Aug. 27.—The local lovers of base-ball were treated to a good game here to-day in an exhibition of batting. The Ashland team played the club from Laurel, Va. The score was 16 to 1 in favor of Ashland. Struck out by Leake, 5, and by Ford (Laurel), 5. Batteries: Tannhill and O'Brien; Owen and Sullivan. Time, 1:22. Umpire, O'Loughlin. Attendance, 20,500.

Charged With Stamping.

Abraham Hartwell (colored), was arrested last night for assaulting and stamping back Jones at Thirteenth and Leigh streets. Dr. Perkins, of the ambulance, attended Sarah.

J. O. PEERMAN, Undertaker,
Phone 651. 214 East Broad St.
Open each hour in the year.

HE APPROVES SUBWAY INN

The Archbishop of Canterbury Endorses the Scheme of Bishop Potter.

MODEL SALOON IS NOT NEW

Wife of Archbishop Had Advocated the Plan Before the Potter Experiment.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, August 27.—The Archbishop of Canterbury, than whom none is higher in ecclesiastical life in King Edward's realm, got off the Cadiz at 1 o'clock this afternoon, and in less than an hour was hastening toward Quebec on a special train, which J. Pierpont Morgan had furnished.

At the pier one of the first things the Archbishop saw was the new subway inn, which the Archbishop had recently approved. The Archbishop was standing near by, and when the sentence endorsing the saloon was finished, the Bishop forgot his pleurisy pains and smiled and bowed most graciously. He got his brother of the cloth to repeat what he had said to the reporter, and this is it: The Archbishop has read, with peculiar interest all the secular and religious press of England has had to say of the archbishop's visit, and while it has been criticized, still the Archbishop endorses it. As a matter of truth, the Archbishop's wife, with his sanction and assistance, of course, conceived a similar plan a long time ago. It worked splendidly, and the older the inn grows the better results follow.

"I should say that the Archbishop would advise the American public to withhold its adverse opinion of the Subway Inn until its effect has had time to be demonstrated."

"When the Archbishop returns to New York will he likely pay the Subway Inn a visit?" Rev. Mr. Ellison was asked.

"Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof," spoke up the Bishop, good humoredly.

MODEL HIGH SCHOOL, recently built at Morrisville, Fauquier county. Picture taken by one of the pupils.

Interest all the secular and religious press of England has had to say of the archbishop's visit, and while it has been criticized, still the Archbishop endorses it. As a matter of truth, the Archbishop's wife, with his sanction and assistance, of course, conceived a similar plan a long time ago. It worked splendidly, and the older the inn grows the better results follow.

"I should say that the Archbishop would advise the American public to withhold its adverse opinion of the Subway Inn until its effect has had time to be demonstrated."

"When the Archbishop returns to New York will he likely pay the Subway Inn a visit?" Rev. Mr. Ellison was asked.

"Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof," spoke up the Bishop, good humoredly.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Louise M. C. Lee.

Mrs. Louise M. C. Lee died in Danville, Va., yesterday morning. She leaves one son, Mr. John P. Lee, two daughters, Miss Mary Lee and Miss Virginia Lee, and two brothers, Messrs. Robert S. and Charles M. Valentine.

Marian Opal White.

The funeral of Marian Opal White, the infant daughter of J. W. and V. L. White, who took place from the residence, No. 101 Twenty-third Street, this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

An Infant Dead.

Samuel Brightwell, infant son of W. Nat and Wharton Tomkinson Yarborough, died at eleven o'clock yesterday morning at the home of his father, No. 1514 West Broad Street. The funeral will take place from the residence at 3 o'clock this morning, and the interment will be made from Lebanon Church, Hanover county.

Joseph Pynes.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
MILLER'S PAVEN, Aug. 27.—Mr. Joseph Pynes died at his home here yesterday morning, after a lingering illness, aged seventy-three years.

Funeral services will be held at the residence, 28 West Clay Street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Friends and acquaintances are invited to attend.

DEATHS.

BALL.—Died, at his home near Falls Church, Fairfax county, Va., August 27, 1904, MORTIMER CORBIN BALL, eldest son of Ballie and Mary Ball, the late Colonel Mortimer Dudley Ball.

BURRUS.—Died, August 27, 1904, at 6 o'clock P. M., BURRUS, son of Woodson C. Burrus.

Funeral services will be held at the residence, 28 West Clay Street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Friends and acquaintances are invited to attend.

GALLAGHER.—Died, at Retreat for the Sick, Saturday, August 27, 1904, ANDREW G. GALLAGHER, son of Andrew J. and Virginia Gallagher, aged 27 years. He leaves a wife, two daughters, two sons and a grandmother to mourn their loss.

Funeral services will be held at the residence, 28 West Clay Street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Friends and acquaintances are invited to attend.

LEE.—Died, in the city of Danville, Va., at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Charles C. Lee, August 27, 1904, Mrs. LOUISE M. C. LEE, wife of the late Mr. J. M. Lee, of this city, and two daughters, Miss Bessie Lee, of this city, and Mrs. Lillie Carban, of Danville, Va.

Funeral services will be held at the residence, 28 West Clay Street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Friends and acquaintances are invited to attend.

WHITE.—Died, August 27, 1904, at 4:05, MARY OPAL WHITE, infant daughter of J. W. and V. L. White, aged nine months and twenty-two days.

Funeral services will be held at the residence, 28 West Clay Street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Friends and acquaintances are invited to attend.

YARBOROUGH.—Died, yesterday, at his parents' home, SAMUEL BRIGHTWELL YARBOROUGH, son of W. Nat and Wharton Tomkinson Yarborough, aged 11 years and 11 months.

Funeral from 1514 W. Broad, 10 A. M. TO-DAY.

YARBOROUGH.—Died, yesterday, at his parents' home, SAMUEL BRIGHTWELL YARBOROUGH, son of W. Nat and Wharton Tomkinson Yarborough, aged 11 years and 11 months.

Funeral from 1514 W. Broad, 10 A. M. TO-DAY.

YARBOROUGH.—Died, yesterday, at his parents' home, SAMUEL BRIGHTWELL YARBOROUGH, son of W. Nat and Wharton Tomkinson Yarborough, aged 11 years and 11 months.

Funeral from 1514 W. Broad, 10 A. M. TO-DAY.

YARBOROUGH.—Died, yesterday, at his parents' home, SAMUEL BRIGHTWELL YARBOROUGH, son of W. Nat and Wharton Tomkinson Yarborough, aged 11 years and 11 months.

Funeral from 1514 W. Broad, 10 A. M. TO-DAY.

YARBOROUGH.—Died, yesterday, at his parents' home, SAMUEL BRIGHTWELL YARBOROUGH, son of W. Nat and Wharton Tomkinson Yarborough, aged 11 years and 11 months.

Funeral from 1514 W. Broad, 10 A. M. TO-DAY.

IN JAIL FOR SAFE KEEPING

Negro Attempts Criminal Assault on Young Married Woman.

THE CONFEDERATE REUNION

A Cold-Blooded Murder in Madison County Over a Small Amount of Money.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 27.—Charged with attempted criminal assault upon Mrs. Noble Burdison, a young married woman, near Bernardsville, on Friday or last we K. a negro named Min Blaney, aged twenty-five, was placed in the county jail here yesterday.

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man

On Friday last Blaney went to the house of Mrs. Burdison, who was alone with her child, and pretended that he wished to sell some tobacco. Mrs. Burdison ordered him to leave, but instead of doing so he seized her by the throat, and a struggle followed, during which the child's arms were thrust into the air, and the negro fled. He was later captured and taken before Justice Dill, who committed him to jail. On the way to jail, Blaney made a break for liberty and man